DETAILED ACTION

Response to Request for Re-examination and Amendment

The Examiner is in receipt of applicant's response to Office action mailed 5/22/2003, which was received 6/25/2003. Acknowledgement is made to applicant's amendment to claims 1,11,21,28, and 37, leaving claims 1-41 as pending in the instant application. The arguments and amendment have been carefully considered and were found to be convincing. For this reason a new grounds of rejection necessitated by amendment is provided below.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-41 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Walker et al. (US 2002/0178069) in view of Berstis (6,570,870).

In regards to claims 1-41, Walker teaches all the limitations of the instant except as follows. Walker teaches a method for negotiating a Conditional Purchase Order between a buyer and a plurality of sellers in real time over the Internet. Walker also provides the means for consummating the sale (see Figures 1-9 and summary). Walker, however, does not specifically mention that buyer and seller have a separate means to communicate through a voice channel. DeSimone teaches a method for making a telephone call during a browsing session to a live operator to carry on further conversation regarding the current online activity (see entire document). It would be obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art to include in Walker further negotiation capability by the means offered in DeSimone, because this capability offers the buyer and seller another means for communication that can answer questions from the buyer and close transactions where a buyer feels a needs to communicate with a live person.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claim 1-41 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
